Skyreach – The New Way Up In Dalby

Skyreach, the leading elevated working platform rental company on Australia's east coast, has expanded further with the opening of a dedicated branch in Dalby.

The Skyreach rental equipment is presented in the company's distinctive white and red corporate livery. The new Skyreach branch at Dalby is fully committed to supporting the Dalby region market with modern equipment wholly backed with experienced sales and support people.

“We have the rental products and qualified people to service the Dalby and regional market” said Rod Leech, Managing Director of Skyreach.

“We are a Queensland privately owned company, dedicated to supporting industry and growth in our home state,” said Rod Leech, Managing Director and founder of Skyreach.

“We know that there are many companies, industries and alike in this great state that are proud to be called Queenslanders. Skyreach is no different.”

The core Skyreach fleet based at Dalby covers scissor lifts, boom lifts and telehandlers. All of the equipment in the fleet is either new or near new ensuring Skyreach customers have the best and most reliable equipment in the region.

The Skyreach benefits don't stop with the young fleet. Operating their own transport fleet, Skyreach is able to deliver access equipment where clients need it, when they need it.

And with their Australian head office and facilities yard based at Caboolture in Brisbane, the Gladstone branch is able to draw on equipment at short notice when required.

“We have the ability to rapidly respond to client needs,” said Rod Leech.

“Already we have been able to freight up Skyreach access equipment overnight from our Brisbane yard. We can have it to a Dalby client the next morning, ready for work.”

In the unlikely event of a problem in the field, Skyreach operates dedicated field service vehicles, manned by qualified technicians. Help is just a phone call away.

Whether the need is modern access equipment or anything else related to the rental industry, Skyreach is on hand ready to assist.

The new Skyreach branch office is conveniently located at 18128 Warrego Highway, Dalby. Area Manager Bill Fleming can be contacted on 0488 011 511. The Skyreach national toll free call centre number is 1800 457 145.
